

Key Design Principles

I feel like the requirements this time as well didn't allow for much room for interpretation. The task was to communicate with an API and create invoices for previously created customers.

Our design ideas focused on creating a system adaptable enough to work for all kinds of inputs and to make the usage as simple as possible.

Therefore, we also created an interface that is easy to handle and hopefully efficient enough for a range of users.